ABSTRACT

Information is provided on education for Montana Indian tribes during 1968-69. Indian students attending institutions of higher education through the aid of Federal funds are listed by name, and breakdowns of funds allocated by the Johnson O'Malley Act are given. Tables provide statistics on Indian enrollment, attendance, and graduates, as well as disbursement of Federal funds for the education of Indians in Montana. The report encompasses elementary schools, high schools, and mission schools on and off the 7 Indian reservations in Montana. In conclusion, the report lists funds allocated through Public Law 874 and the Elementary and Secondary Education Act. (EL)

FOREWARD

Many schools on or near Indian reservations operate without financial assistance from Indian Education funds. This report includes data about these schools, higher education, and information concerning public schools used as a basis for a Johnson O'Malley Act contract with the United States Department of Interior, Bureau of Indian Affairs.

NARRATIVE

Indian Education

1968 -- 1969

The Superintendent of Public Instruction contracts annually with the United States Department of Interior, Bureau of Indian Affairs, to provide educational services to Montana Indians. The authority for negotiation comes from the Federal Act of April 16, 1934, C. 147, 1, 48 Stat. 596, commonly known as the Johnson O'Malley Act, as amended June 4, 1936, C. 490, 49 Stat. 1458, and Section 79-1602, R.C.M. 1947, and the State Board of Education Minutes, Page 124, Vol. 16. The administration of Johnson O'Malley Act funds is based on operation criteria as outlined in Vol. VI, Part II, Chapter 3, Indian Affairs Manual, and the State Plan.

The purpose of the Indian Education Program is to assist public school districts with categorical grants-in-aid to meet extraordinary needs which cannot be financed by available revenue, to bring about a better understanding between school and community, to encourage new programs or approaches to learning for meeting the needs of the Indian, to provide in-service training for teachers of Indian children, and to counsel with Indian youth in both public and private schools relative to education and/or training beyond high school.

Indian Education Funds (Johnson O'Malley Act) aided school districts educating Indian children in the following ways and amounts: Reimbursement at 25 cents a lunch for lunches served free to indigent Indian children, $100,174.25; for special transportation projects, $13,636.00; for school week boarding homes, $6,900.00; for tutoring to cover evening high school study tables, $2,100.00; for expenses of home-school coordinators, $14,253.00; for salary of a part-time special teacher, $2,200.00; for salary of a teacher aide, $1,500.00; for summer enrichment and summer school programs, $2,017.00; for summer on-campus workshops for teachers, $6,481.15. Children and teachers in nineteen communities were assisted by Indian Education funds.

The Indian Education Supervisor took Thomasine Hill, Miss Indian America XV, to 28 Montana communities on or near Indian reservations. Miss Hill is of Crow-Pawnee extraction and had attended three Montana schools, plus Eastern Montana College. Miss Hill is an inspiring speaker and made one or more presentations in each community to a total audience of over 11,500 people, most of whom were school age children. The purpose of the project was an attempt to improve the Indian's self-image. The effort was supported by local school districts, Bureau of Indian Affairs, local service clubs, colleges, and the Office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The Indian Education Supervisor made 70 visits to schools, conducted 213 personal interviews with Indian college students during eleven visits to units of Montana University System, participated in three out-of-state conferences on Indian Education, participated in one career day designed primarily for Indian students, and conducted one statewide conference on Indian Education.

The effectiveness of the Office of Indian Education could be increased by (1) providing for additional in-service-training for teachers, (2) providing more funds for summer workshops for teachers of Indian children, (3) providing additional funds with which school districts could carry out special programs designed for Indian children, (4) developing teaching materials effective for Indian children in Montana, (5) visiting schools educating Indian children, not necessarily those receiving Johnson O'Malley assistance, to ascertain possible needs, (6) promoting local Indian and community involvement in matters effecting education of Indian children, and (7) conducting more frequent personal interviews with Indian college students.

Higher Education Services

1968 -- 1969

Among the many services offered by the State Superintendent's Office is the awarding of fee-waivers to selected American Indian students for attendance at units of the University system. This service is provided under the authority of Sec. 75-506.1, R.C.M. 1947. The Supervisor of Indian Education processes all applications and recommends applicants for this assistance. In the period covered by this report, forty-eight (48) new fee-waivers could be granted each year. The statutory limits of the fee-waiver was increased by the last session of the legislature to ninety-six (96) per year. Each fee-waiver can extend over a four-year period.

The aim of the Indian Education Supervisor is to conduct personal interviews with Indian college students once each quarter. This goal was not met during 1968-1969; however, 210 personal interviews were conducted.
